

The Connect Garden

A garden that connects people with one another and with nature
— Sustainable Garden × Healthcare —

About the Garden

The Connect Garden is a spatially articulated, two-tiered landscape structured around the themes of ecological cycles, collective memory, and symbiosis with the local community. Elements such as water, greenery, light, and wind gently converge to engage the senses—sight, sound, smell, and touch—creating a space that fosters comfort and restoration for all who visit. This garden is more than mere decoration; it seeks to reconnect urban life with nature and provide a new platform for healthcare. By incorporating perspectives such as green care, recovery, and stimulation of the five senses, it is a new form of space—one that bridges future-oriented design with community-based medical and welfare practices.
