

A Garden Where Kindness Blooms

About the Garden

This garden is a space nurturing empathy and compassion for all living things through a connection with nature. Visitors can enjoy a harmonious landscape with a thatched-roof hut, native trees, and meadow flowers.

The hut serves as a base for children's exploration and play, cultivating curiosity and growth. The garden features modest paths, offering moments of discovery with each step. The bio-nest compost system allows visitors to experience the cycle of nature, while local trees and plants create habitats for birds and insects, promoting coexistence with the natural world. Seasonal flowers gently add color to the town.
